Are you

a pre-seed/seed startup founder in SF/Peninsula?

Hey! I am Ben. Exceptional full stack tech skills (15+ YoE). I have an unusual offer for you:

work-trial me.

Instead of going through a long winded recruitment process, let's meet over coffee. 30 minutes. You pitch the company. I pitch me. Talk some more. Evaluate risk. Formalize the terms. Start within 3 days. Stop anytime

WHY?

For you: Efficiency, risk balancing, serendipity, chance of asymmetric returns
For me: All of the above + seeking founders bound less by convention + working around dysfunctions of ATS, LinkedIn & the state of recruitment in general.

HOW?

Phase 1: I work for you for 2 weeks. At minimum wage. In-person. Get real work done. Kick the tires. If I hit the ground running and everything looks great, proceed to the next phase.

Phase 2: I work at 50% of median pay for the role. For the next 10 weeks.

Longer Term: Make me an offer by the 12th week. Flexible on base salary, but overall comp esp equity should reflect my contribution and align my returns with yours and the company's success.

WHERE?

I live in Mountain View. Can meet anywhere from SF to San Jose. Prefer working in-person from a location within 6 miles from Caltrain/light rail
